Cyclone Hits Bretona Area: Crops Suffer

Sweeping across the Bretona district, 11 miles south of Edmonton, a gale of hurricane velocity smashed off tree trunks like match-stems, swept roofs of barns and buildings 400 to 600 yards and wrought damage estimated at more than $50,000 late on Friday afternoon.

In addition considerable crop damage was done. The storm slashed in zig-zag fashion over an area about six miles long and varying in width from one-quarter mile to a mile. The heels of the wind came a race hall storm that took heavy toll of the crop in the territory adjacent to J. A. Sanford were completely wrecked by the high wind. The buildings are said to be damaged beyond repair.

Although the property damage did not seem heavy, the loss of the heavy rain, although it did not seem narrow escapes were reported. The cyclone is the worst in the district in many years. The loss of trees 10 and 12 inches in diameter were snapped off. The loss of crops was heavy. The loss of the heavy rain, although it did not seem narrow escapes were reported. Seaman Believed From City Downs

VANCOUVER, July 3.—(CP)—The Seaman Stanley Gerrie, 31, of the S.S. Lady Cynthia was drowned in the waters of the Strait of Georgia Friday when he fell overboard while attempting to close the ship's cargo doors. Union Steamship officials reported last night when the ship arrived in Vancouver. Ship officers said Gerrie, who is believed to be from Edmonton, was holding onto a rope from the side of the ship at the time of the accident. Just as he got the big steel doors partly shut, heavy swell came up and the doors flew open, throwing the young man into the sea. The body was not recovered.

DR. M. R. BOW

The provincial government, the R.C.A.F. and the U.S. Army have combined to assist a Provost doctor in a fight to save the life of five-year-old D'Arcy Roesski, Provost district child stricken with the dread disease anthrax. Penicillin, obtained through Lt. Col. Charles Mueller, chief of the medical branch Northwest Service Command, U.S. Army, was flown by R.C.A.F. plane and dropped by parachute at Provost. Wing Cmdr. H. J. Winny, O.B.E., directed the plane flight and packed the precious drug. Dr. M. R. Bow, deputy provincial minister of health, sought the aid of the military forces.

Using Penicillin

Three-Way Effort Is Made To Save Provost Boy's Life

Alberta government health authorities, the R.C.A.F. and the United States Army medical services in Edmonton, joined forces Sunday to use the new wonder drug penicillin in a thrilling, desperate effort to save the life of little D'Arcy Roesski, five-year-old son of a Provost district farmer, stricken recently with the dread and rare disease, anthrax.

Following an urgent plea from Dr. A. S. Perl of Provost, physician attending the stricken child, a package containing penicillin, obtained from the United States Army, was flown to Provost by a R.C.A.F. plane from the Northwest Air Command in Edmonton and dropped by parachute.

The drug was put to immediate use and reports early Monday afternoon from Provost were that the penicillin was being administered. Government medical authorities here were of the belief that this is the first time that penicillin has been used against anthrax. It is certainly the first time it has been used for this disease in Alberta.

Medical officials also stated it would be known within 48 hours whether or not the drug would be successful in saving the life of the Roesski child.

Meagre information concerning the case state the child contracted anthrax.

Opens Ancient Invasion Road Westward to Germany's Soil

By ROBERT MUSEL

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin
Copyright, 1944, by British United Press

LONDON, July 3.—The Red Army captured Minsk, capital of White Russia, and opened the ancient invasion route westward only 180 miles from the German soil of East Prussia.

Premier Josef Stalin announced the capture of Minsk in an order of the day addressed to Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky and Gen. Ivan D. Cherniakhovsky, whose first and third armies of White Russia scored the most brilliant Soviet victory of a whirlwind summer campaign.

Minsk, gateway to Warsaw and Berlin beyond, fell to Red Army forces executing a deep flanking manoeuvre. Stalin reported in a hint that the German garrison had fled the city to escape the Red Army trap snapping shut behind it.

Earlier Moscow dispatches reported that the Russians had opened a frontal assault on Minsk, pounding its inner defences with artillery from a distance of less than a dozen miles while troops and tanks awaited the signal to close in.

Minsk, one of the important Russian cities held by the Germans, fell almost to the day three years ago.

Flt. Lt. D. C. Laubman

City Pilot Bags 2 Nazis Of Canadian Total of 21

LONDON, July 3.—(CP)—Canadian Spitfire pilots yesterday sent 19 more German aircraft crashing to earth in their third big shoot-up in less than a week over the Normandy battlefield.

Airmen from Wing Cmdr. J. E. (Johnny) Johnson's wing figured in the fighting which brought the Canadian score since June 28 to 58 but early reports from the French landing strips did not say whether Johnson, leading Allied air ace in his theatre with 33 victories, had added to his total.

Yesterday's victories—a total of 21 enemy planes were shot down yesterday at a cost of three Allied planes—followed two other recent major successes of the R.C.A.F. The Canadians destroyed 26 German planes June 28 and knocked down 13 Friday.

On most occasions as hectic dog fights, swirled over France the Canadians attacked when badly outnumbered.

Flt. Lt. D. C. Laubman, Edmonton, was a double victor when his squadron, on a dive-bombing sortie, encountered 24 German aircraft.

Flt. Lt. Laubman is the son of HSM Charles Laubman of the 2nd (Reserve) Battalion, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment and Mrs. Laubman of the First Great War.

By 13-9 Vote

Senate Defeats Amendment To Eliminate Part of Bill Depriving Japs of Vote

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—The Senate by a 13-9 vote Friday defeated an amendment to strike from the bill amending the Elections Act a clause depriving Japanese throughout Canada of the franchise.

The amendment was introduced by Senator J. J. Bench (L. Ontario) and seconded by Senator Norman Lambert (L. Ontario). Senator Bench and others who supported his amendment, said the clause was "racial discrimination" and contrary to democratic principles.

After voting on the amendment, supported by eight Liberal and one Progressive Conservative senator, the bill was passed. As a result of other, less important amendments made while it was before the Senate the bill will have to be sent back to the Commons.

The clause affecting Japanese voters was contained in a bill intended primarily for making amendments in the Election Act of 1938 to provide for taking the overseas soldier vote in the next general election.

GENERAL RESTRICTION

The clause, as originally framed, provided that in any case there a province passed legislation banning a person of racial origin of a country at war with Canada from voting such a restriction should apply throughout Canada.

This was amended before a Senate committee to apply only when such legislation now is in effect. This amendment would result in the ban applying only to Japanese.

Senator Bench, at 35, the youngest member of the upper house, spoke before an audience which included Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand and Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

He said the amendment discriminated against the Japanese and he added:

"I venture to remind them (the senators) that, in amending the section as they already have done so as to permit persons of German and other enemy origin to exercise the franchise, the Senate has subscribed to the principle that racial derivation of present enemy character is not a sufficient ground in itself to justify the denial of the right to vote at a Dominion election."

REICH MAIN ENEMY

He said that the suggestion was that Germany was Canada's principal enemy.

"Why then do we see fit to qualify for the ballot those of German, Italian, Romanian and other enemy origin and, with the same stroke of the pen say to persons of the Japanese race who have been born in Canada that they are not to vote?" he asked.

He said he held no special brief for the Japanese and the reported atrocities of their soldiers. And he was glad a Senate committee had recommended amendment of the section in question so as to remove the restriction on the rights of persons of other enemy racial origins.

"I am happy," he said, that the Senate has recognized the great injustice which otherwise might have been inflicted on a very large section of the Canadian population, some of which are of the third or fourth generation of residents in this country.

"My only complaint is that, being gone this far, the committee did not see fit to suggest to the house that the section should be deleted from the bill in its entirety."

TELEGRAM READ

He read a telegram of protest on the amendment signed by representatives of various churches.

Senator Rupert Davies (L. Ontario) interjected that he did not think it was fair to assume that the clergymen were expressing other than their own opinion. He did not think their protest had the action of church conventions.

Senator Bench said he had read a press report indicating that at least one church convention supported the protest.

Senator Bench suggested the bill be sent back to the Commons with the entire clause deleted to allow further consideration by the Commons.

While the Election Act as it now stands deprives persons prohibited from voting in any provincial election from voting in a federal election in the province, Senator Bench said he considered such legislation gave the provinces undue pressure and certainly it should not be extended. There was no demand for the action being taken through the clause which he proposed.

BARRED IN

Japanese in British Columbia were already barred from voting in British Columbia in a general election and the new restriction would apply to the 4,000 Japanese in other parts of Canada.

"If this bill becomes law the propaganda machine at Tokyo will at once get to work," he said.

It was particularly objectionable that such discriminatory legislation should be introduced in a bill to provide facilities to enable members of the forces to exercise their franchise. Such a discriminatory act would find little support among the members of the armed forces.

"They are fighting to preserve the heritage of Canadians whatever their racial origin resulting from the heritage of their parents," he said.

"It could be much more becoming to parliament to preserve the basic principles of democracy," Senator W. A. Griesbach (P.C.—Alberta) said the Senate debate was the opening gun in a debate that was going to last for some time.

CITIZENSHIP QUESTION

The whole question is whether Japanese is a desirable citizen," he said. "Japanese were admitted because we desired to appease people."

Senator Griesbach said he believed many Japanese were in Canada illegally.

Senator Norman Lambert (L.—Ontario) questioned this statement and said investigation by the British Columbia security commission failed to support it.

The Alberta senator said the Japanese could never understand the principles of a democratic government.

The treatment of prisoners by the Japanese marked them as "uncivilized savages."

In planning defence of Canada's Pacific area it had been found essential to move them.

Eventually consideration would have to be given to removing all Japanese from Canada.

He said that in taking such action no distinction should be made between Canadian-born and other Japanese. All Japanese were "objectionable people."

Disapproval of the clause to which objection was being taken came entirely from those who were remote from the areas where Japanese resided.

John T. Haig (P.C.—Manitoba), acting Progressive Conservative leader, said the principle of depriving certain groups of their franchise had been accepted over a long period and applied to Indians and Eskimos.

LOSING NOTHING

The Japanese who lived in British Columbia who were normally 97 per cent of the Japanese population in Canada had never had the right to vote and were losing nothing.

Protests at taking the vote from 4,000 Japanese in other parts of Canada came from one group—the people who after the last war reached we shouldn't be too hard on the Germans.

"My city has 1,000 men prisoners of war in Hong Kong," he said. "I couldn't support this and go home and meet a father, mother, sister or brother of one of those men."

Senator Haig said his colleague, Senator Griesbach, had personal experience with the Japanese because a niece of his had been starved to death in a Japanese concentration camp.

"How anybody can vote to give Japanese the vote after Pearl Harbor is beyond me," said Senator Haig.

Senator Cairine Wilson (L.—Ontario) asked why Senator Haig took such an attitude to the Japanese and not to the Germans who had been guilty of atrocities.

"The fundamental difference is that we cannot assimilate the Japanese," he replied.

Hong Kong there won't be a senator in this house who will be able to put his head up and say a word for the Japanese."

NOT SUPPORTING JAPS

Senator William Duff (L.—Nova Scotia) said those objecting to the clause were not supporting the Japanese.

Senator Lambert said the suggestion of Senator Griesbach that all Japanese should be deported would be proper in a military autocracy, but not in a democratic country.

Pearl Harbor was a matter of closer concern to the United States than to Canada, but that country had adopted "an essentially different and much more enlightened attitude" toward its Japanese citizens.

Senator Lambert said he believed the attitude of the C.C.F. toward citizenship had been an important factor in the success of the C.C.F.

"On racial discrimination in relation to citizenship its position has been consistent and in my opinion sound," he said. "I make that statement as a Liberal who is glad to see the C.C.F. adopt a Liberal view."

A sense of justice and not a spirit of revenge should determine the senate's decision.

USED FOR PROPAGANDA

Senator Wilson said previous suggestions that the Japanese should be deported from Canada had been hailed with delight by Japanese authorities, who were quick to take advantage of its propaganda value.

"I am at a loss to know why we should hold the sins of the Japanese military party against innocent Canadian citizens," Senator Wilson said.

Senator Wilson said there had been a number of protests at the bill, some from British Columbia.

Weather-vanes—crowing rooster, fish, arrows—are the decorative motifs which Hollywood's designer, Edith Head, uses this year to trim some of her creations.

Guns Stop Firing

Strange Scene at Front As Nazi Nurses Returned

By DON WHITEHEAD

WITH AMERICAN FORCES AT BALLEROY, France, July 3.—(AP)—One of the strangest battlefield scenes in all the invasion of France occurred yesterday in no-man's-land near Hege when eight German nurses captured in Cherbourg were returned to the enemy lines.

For 30 minutes the guns stopped roaring, snipers held their fire and the mortars were silent while two ambulances and a jeep rolled down the lonely road between the lines. A few hundred yards beyond Caumont the procession stopped and Capt. Quentin Roosevelt, son of Brig. Gen. Theodore Roosevelt, and another captain stepped out.

They were met by two German officers who had a party of soldiers well in their rear. The enemy officers saluted stiffly.

One said in English, "It's a very hot day, isn't it?"

"Yes, it is," Captain Roosevelt answered.

And then the German nurses climbed from the ambulance and walked down the road to the German lines. The German officers saluted formally, wheeled and walked away.

GUNS OPEN UP

A few minutes later the guns began booming again.

So far as is known here, this is the first time in the Second Great

Rapid Progress Is Made at Clearing Port of Cherbourg

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 3.—(AP)—The Germans "did a very clever job of demolition" at Cherbourg, but no worse than expected, and clearance of the port now is going forward rapidly, Maj. Gen. Cecil Ray, senior chief of the United States army engineers in the European theatre of operations, said yesterday. The general, sent in with the 9th Division when they took the port, found the beaten Nazis had scuttled almost every ship in the harbor. They also damaged the signal control system of all the waterfront railways and blasted the longer bridges.

War where German women have been returned to the enemy. There was no effort at an exchange because the Germans never have captured any American nurses.

Most of the nurses were tearfully happy when informed they would not be held prisoner but would be returned to their own lines.

IT'S the beaches of Europe you ought to be on, mister, where men are fighting for freedom — your freedom, world's freedom.

Canada's Army needs men like you to take your place on the right beach — to wear the G.S. badge on your arm. The badge that means General Service on any battle front, anywhere in the world.

Remember, it's going to take months of training to make you fighting fit. So, today, now, decide to get on the right beach.

Alberta's Housing Plan

Announcement by Attorney-General Maynard to the annual meeting of the Union of Municipalities in Calgary, Friday, of the Alberta Government's plan to provide $1,000,000 to launch a co-operative home-building association is the best plan yet devised by any government in Canada.
The plan is essentially simple and no municipality in Alberta could afford not to co-operate in providing home-building loans at the cheapest interest rates in Canada.
The plan provides for loans at not more than 4 per cent interest which is a rate 25 per cent less than the 5 per cent rate charged under the Dominion Housing Act.
The plan needs to be pushed forward immediately and no time should be lost in forming a co-operative housing association to make available in all parts of Alberta cheap loans for erecting modern houses in both rural and urban areas.
At the present time men and materials are scarce, but with the expected early collapse of Nazi Germany the scarcity will likely be relieved and no industry provides more profitable employment than the building trades.
Disgraceful housing conditions everywhere in Canada are a striking condemnation of the private money monopoly which has been permitted to ruthlessly exploit Canadians with ruinous and unpayable interest rates.

"Corporation" Profits

Mr. M. J. Coldwell thinks that heavier taxes should be levied on corporations. And is opposed to any easement which would permit such concerns to accumulate profits for post-war expansion, or reconditioning of plants.
In this the C.C.F. leader is thoroughly consistent. He does not want private companies to survive the war in financial strength. He wants them to emerge so short of funds that they would not be able to renew worn-out equipment, enlarge their operations, or start new industries, and so be able to employ more men than they employed in pre-war days.
Nothing would suit Mr. Coldwell's purpose better than that private enterprise should be taxed into impotence. That would supply him with a plausible argument that private enterprise is unable to support a condition of full employment, and that only a socialist economy could save the country from the post-war depression he so confidently predicts—and upon which he bases his hope to attain office.
Neither does he take into account that any corporation profits which are left after wartime corporation and excess profits taxes have been paid, and which are paid out to stock-holders as dividends, are immediately taxed as personal incomes of the recipients. Corporation earnings are in fact taxed twice, once as corporation earnings and again as income when they pass to the stock-holders.
None of these things matter to the enthusiastic apostle of socialism. He wouldn't and couldn't be a thorough-going socialist if he faced these facts squarely and fairly.

Rolling Right Along

Moscow does not say that the enemy forces in White Russia are in rout, but it announces particulars which seem to add up to much the same thing. In a week 175,000 Axis soldiers there have been killed or captured, and the broken divisions are running so fast they cannot take time to man their intermediate defense lines. Perhaps Goebbels will tell us the difference between this precipitate retreat and a rout.
For the time at least the Nazified stiffening of resistance on the Finnish front has not interfered with the Red army drive in the southern sector. Russian forces are on the advance in the north too, and have cleared the whole line of the Leningrad-Murmansk railway. If they can keep that rail route open for equipment and supplies pouring in by sea, the Finnish situation will be of minor consequence, for the big operation in the east is the offensive that is rolling westward along the old Napoleon road—of sinister memory for the Nazis.
This massed drive straight toward Warsaw and Berlin is the most direct threat the Reich has yet faced. Unless stopped, Russian troops could be at the border of Germany in a matter of weeks. Since the enemy defences have been smashed, Moscow's chief problem may be to keep supplies flowing ahead over the lengthening communication lines. But, however they do it, the Russians have never yet allowed an offensive to bog down through failure of their transport to feed munitions to an advancing fighting line.
Nor is it to be forgotten that every mile the Red army advances north of the Pripiet marshes improves the setting for a new thrust on the long stagnant Romanian front. Russian manpower makes the opening of another full-scale offensive there entirely possible.

The Final Effrontery

Mothers attending the parents' summer school at the University of British Columbia, last week, were addressed by Dr. A. S. Laycock, professor of psychology in the University of Saskatchewan.
The text of the learned professor's address was this: "When should a child be spanked?"

It makes no difference that the good doctor took a liberal stand on the question, that he admitted that corporal punishment had a place in the home. Nothing he could say could mitigate the supreme impudence inherent in the act of a university professor standing up before a group of mothers and telling them when they should paddle their children.
This, surely, is the final scientific effrontery.
There is no doubt that the home owes a great deal to the experts. The psychologists, the sanitarians and the pediatricians have contributed much to the art and science of raising children. But surely there must be a point where science invades the field of natural instinct.
This is probably it.

Still another air record was made when seven powerful Allied bomber fleets pounded enemy targets in four countries in one day. The same day it was announced that triangular shuttle bombing had been started between Britain, Russia and Italy. Goebbels may soon find it more convenient in his mid-warning broadcast to simply say which part of the Reich seems likely to get through the day bombings.

The Commons Banking Committee approved an amendment to the Bank Act bill providing that bank stock should be divided into $10 shares, instead of $100 shares as at present. The idea is that if shares are set at the lower price more people will buy them and bank ownership be decentralized. That should be good for the banks, make their operations more responsive to popular interests, and bring their policies more into line with the views of the community. Every customer a share-holder would be a good motto for the banks; and good also in the effect upon the functioning of banking in the business life of the country.

Woman's Lot in Wartime Germany

A Stockholm correspondent of the London Daily Mail interviews "the bedraggled-looking young wife of a neutral diplomat" who has just reached Sweden after a long residence in Berlin and asks her how German women are taking the war.
Can the average German woman get anything decent to wear?
Don't be fooled by those fine fashions they show in German magazines printed for propaganda abroad. Those are fakes.
There are no clothes of any kind on sale in Germany, let alone any new fashions. A few women still have a few smart clothes which they saved from better days; but they aren't wearing them in the street.
The authorities in recent months have been stopping all women who look even reasonably dressed, on the principle that if they can go about dressed-up that means they have got too much leisure time.

German women, whatever their wardrobe, on their most dilapidated-looking coats, the dirtiest and more ragged the better, and sink about the streets trying to look as tired as possible, so that the Gestapo and police will pass them by.
Occasionally you go to a private party and the hostess wears something decent—only the hostess, not the guests, because they would be caught on the way to the party.
You used to be able to get away with it by rushing to a party in a cab, but now you have to walk, and any dress that looks anything at all stands out a mile in a Berlin street.

What are Berlin shops like now?

That is easily answered. Practically speaking, except for food stores, there aren't any shops, because there's nothing to buy.
The average German woman is rolling in money these days. She gets her wages, which are high—plus allowances from her husband at the front, which are also high.
Money in Germany today is absolutely meaningless to women, which you use to sit on by day and sleep on at night, and has drawers in it so that it can also be used as a cupboard for clothes. It does not make a very soft bed!
If you are lucky you may get a chair or two; but that's not easy and some people are issued with a table-cupboard. You get no linen, and no curtains.
Young married couples looking for homes are usually given a temporary house, which really is like a wooden shed.
How do women feel generally about war now?
They all know Germany cannot go through another winter.
People have often said Germany couldn't last the winter of other war years, but this time I am convinced she can't.
Most women are badly shaken up by the war. Not so much by the heavy casualties or the aerial blitz; they can take the blitz.
The thing that is getting them down is the steady accumulation of difficulties and troubles.

What are the shows like, the cinemas, theatres, etc.?

There has been no dancing in Germany since the Russian campaign began. You can't go to the theatres unless you book months in advance.
Four or five of the performances each week are exclusively for the armed forces at most theatres. Cinemas are equally booked up.
But if you have even the smallest quantity of coffee, which hasn't been seen in Germany, except on the Black Market, since Christmas.

What did you, as a woman, find the most irksome restriction?

I should think that most German women find the food restrictions worst of all.

I had four times the ordinary food ration, because I am the wife of a neutral diplomat, and yet I found it difficult to satisfy my appetite. How the German women manage beats me!
The most irksome thing I, personally, found was the soap problem.
You can get a tiny piece of soap every month; but the most awful part of it is that, when you wash yourself with it, it leaves a disgusting smell. Everyone in Germany reeks of the soap—a sort of oily, fatty stench, which is so bad that very often you prefer not to wash at all.
You smell that soap in underground trains, in buses, in the cinema, and the theatres. It puts you off your food in restaurants.
Finding anything decent to wash your hair with is hopeless, and you don't use the soap, unless you want your hair to reek of it for a month.

How do the wives of the top Germans get along?

That is a sore point with the average German woman.
Frau Goring and Frau Ribbentrop don't come anywhere near Berlin. They live almost all the year round at Bodensee, near the Swiss border, in well-equipped villas not far from Konstanz. You never see them.
No wives of top Germans are to be found in Berlin.
What is it like keeping house in Germany?
Whatever the size of your flat, you have the right to live in only one room in it, providing your family is not more than four in number.
The rest of the rooms are seized by the police, and each one has about four people crowded into it.
Usually three families live in an average-sized flat. One family is allotted the job of doing the cooking, mending, and washing for the other two. That causes a lot of rows and brawls.
If you get bombed out you get an issue of utility furniture. You get a thing called a sofa-cupboard, which you use to sit on by day and sleep on at night, and has drawers in it so that it can also be used as a cupboard for clothes. It does not make a very soft bed!
If you are lucky you may get a chair or two; but that's not easy and some people are issued with a table-cupboard. You get no linen, and no curtains.

Side Glances

You can get a seat at any theatre at once.
Sometimes two meat coupons butter coupons will do the trick.
Are all women compelled to war work?
Yes, but the organized crumpling. Official records are very difficult to keep, so much confusion has been caused by the rush.
Women just do what they can spontaneously. There can be very little real organization in the most-bombed areas.
This woman from Berlin added: "I have probably painted a grim picture. But, if anything, I have underplayed the position. No words can really describe the difficulties in Germany now."
"I do not see the war going on much longer than six months."
"The German women will not revolt; but they are ready to support any move to end the war."
"They hardly ever mention Hitler now. Recently the authorities reminded women that when they write to their husbands at the front they should finish their letters with 'Heil Hitler,' because many women were leaving out the 'Heils.'"
"The women, I think, have more commonsense than the men. I think the German leaders are very worried about the way the average German woman is thinking now. They should be."

"After work every night you fall into bed—I thought we were coming out to grandpa's to do a little fishing!"

Cunning of Danish Opposition

Germans Not Amused by Weapons of Ridicule and Mockery

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

Many instances of mockery of the Germans by the Danish people are being told. It is this secret weapon of ridicule which leaves the Germans helpless.
The first instance is a scene in a residential street in Copenhagen, Denmark, sometime in 1942. A fish pedlar is pushing his barrow down the street, loudly announcing his wares: "Fine mackerel! Fat mackerel! Just as fat as a Goring!"
He leaves a trail of laughing customers behind him. Finally a Danish policeman reluctantly arrests him and takes him before the police magistrate, where he is reprimanded and given the lightest possible sentence; two weeks' imprisonment.
Two weeks later he is again pushing his barrow down the same street. "Fine mackerel! Fat mackerel! Just as fat as a Goring!"
The policeman laughs. The story spreads rapidly and soon all Denmark laughs. All but the Germans. They are not amused.
And the fish pedlar is only one of three and a half million people who are fighting the Germans with ridicule.

Too Subtle

Another instance is about the bookseller who, shortly after the Germans invaded Denmark, displayed an English language course in his window with this sign above it: "Learn to speak English before our good friends the Tommies arrive." In those days Hitler was still trying to conquer the Danes with kindness, so the bookseller was merely requested to remove the offending sign. He not only agreed to do so, he offered to withdraw the English language course and display a German language course instead. The German authorities were delighted until they saw the sign advertising the course: "Learn to speak German before our good friends the Tommies leave us."

And so it goes. A steady series of pin-pricks which would be laughed off by other nations, but which leaves the humorless Germans infuriated and bewildered. Open resistance something they can understand and deal with, but this sly mockery something they can't understand so they fear it.

All true Danes are good at this game, but the use for subtle humor must be guarded to His Majesty King Christian X who, when asked by Hitler's representative what he intended to do about the Jewish problem, replied: "As we have never considered ourselves inferior to the Jews, we have no Jewish problem."
Harsh Measures
What is possibly the most widely publicized story about Danish humor concerns Marsha Rommel's visit to Denmark. A large crowd had gathered outside his hotel, and when the Marshal came out and drove away, the crowd remained. A German official asked one expectant-looking man what they were waiting for. "Why, for General Montgomery, of course," came the surprised reply. "He always comes right after Rommel, doesn't he?"
Again the Germans failed to be amused.
As time went on and the Danes began to realize that the Germans would never co-operate with them, the "benevolent mask" was dropped and harsh measures applied to enforce obedience to the New Order. The Danes struck back with every means at their disposal, chief of which was sabotage. Finally, on August 29, 1943 open revolt broke out.
Thousands of Danes were killed, and the King and all the royal family were taken prisoner. But the Danish underground keeps fighting, and its sense of humor is as keen as ever, though decidedly grimmer.

Recently the Germans made a clumsy attempt to get Danish patriots to betray themselves. They printed a mass of leaflets in English, assuring the Danes that the hour of liberation was at hand, rise now, etc., and dropped them by air all over Denmark, hoping to start another premature revolt.
But the spelling mistakes and typical German grammatical errors gave the game away, and the next day the Gestapo received a huge pile of mail; practically all the leaflets had been mailed back to them, with a polite "Tak for Laan" (thanks for the loan of it) written on each one.
Humor, destruction and celebration were blended nicely in Copenhagen on April 30 this year. On April 29 Her Royal Highness the Crown Princess of Denmark gave birth to a daughter. Normally, this event would have been celebrated with a 21-gun salute, but of course that was strictly forbidden by the Nazis. So the following morning Copenhagen was rocked by an explosion, another followed, and another, until 21 had been counted. Each explosion accounted for a German barracks, warehouse, printing establishment, factory, machine shop, etc. The next morning handbills were found all over Copenhagen, expressing the hope that the citizens approved of the 21-gun salute the Underground had fired in honor of Her Royal Highness.

Drive to Increase Imports

By J. H. GRAY

Whenever two Canadians meet these days conversation seems to turn inevitably to the post-war and particularly to post-war trade. That we should be thinking about trade is all to the good for unless there can be a substantial expansion of trade after the war there is little hope for a prosperous Canada. Yet an exceedingly dangerous blind spot is developing in connection with Canada's thinking about trade for everywhere the first, instead of the only, consideration is with things he consumes. The only people who can pay Canadians for the goods they export are the people who use and consume it. The only way in which they can pay for it is the wealth which they produce themselves.

Recognize these facts and we see at once that most of the talk about expanding markets for Canadian production is mere beating of the air. There is only one sound and healthy way in which we can expand our export markets. That is by expanding our imports.

The market which exists in the world for Canadian production is limited. All we have to do to obtain this market is expand our imports. If we concentrated our quarter of the effort we now expend upon searching for export markets to expanding our imports we would quickly solve most of our problems.
Yet when we talk of imports we encounter the most violent opposition of both the protectionist left and the protectionist right. They regard imports, all imports, as threats to the Canadian standard of living. They seek to have everything produced in Canada because it gives work, as if there was any merit in work for the sake of working.
Ignored completely by the protectionists is the fact that imports also provide work. When we trade Canadian wheat for British textiles we provide work in efficient industries. We put the railway workers to work doing what they do best. We put the steamship workers to work doing what they do best. We put the farmers working at what they do best. The British consumer gets the advantage of better food at lower cost. The Canadian consumer gets the benefit of better textiles at lower cost. The standard of living of both is enhanced out of all proportion to the illusory gain that is made by putting Canadians to work making inferior textiles for which they must charge exorbitant prices. Here in Western Canada, we once realized all this. It is time that we realized it again, for unless there is a concerted drive in Canada to increase our imports, no tinkering with the internal economy of the country can save us from depression. We, in Canada, must import or die.

Memories of the Haying Season

By BRUCE HITCHISON

This is haying time. How melancholy to realize that millions of Canadians will see no magic in these words, will not know what haying means nor smell in memory the brave perfume of it! How far have we advanced along the road of industrialization, urbanization and demoralization when most of our people have never felt a pitchfork in their hands!
But to the Canadians who have come off the land haying days are a moving memory, the supreme festival of the year. Haying was hard work but it became a kind of game, a race to get the hay into the barn, and to the lonely farm it brought new faces, the boys of the haying crew, and everybody behaved as if this were a holiday.

NEW YORK TIMES

Four June days ago, at the height of the triumphal march across Europe German soldiers were singing: Give me your hand, your dear, your hand.
Farewell, my sweetest love, Farewell, my sweet, farewell, Farewell, for we sail, farewell, for we sail.
For we sail against England.
Last week "We Sail Against England" was an almost forgotten song. Instead the German radios were broadcasting to the troops a new song.
We stand in the west; we are fully prepared.
Let the enemy come today. We are on guard, our fists are hard.
We stand in the west at bay. For we know we defend here with strongest hand.
The frontier of our Fatherland.
The day of triumph for the Wehrmacht had passed. The Germans knew H-hour was at hand.

District News in Brief

Red Deer Ready For Summer Fair

RED DEER—Directors of the agricultural society are making arrangements for the 54th annual fair on Aug. 3, 4 and 5. Prize list have been issued and inquiries are coming in from farmers in Central Alberta. The list sets forth the classes for horses, cattle, sheep and swine, of the different breeds. Children's classes are given as are classes for cooking and fancy work.

Platform attractions are reported to be among the finest ever on this circuit. There will be good events on the race program, which will include Roman races. An effort will be made to get the band from A20 Canadian Army Service Corps Training Centre, Red Deer, as an added attraction. The Midway will be supplied by the Casey Shows.

Mrs. A. S. Wood, president of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Leonard Gaetz Memorial United Church, was honored at the closing meeting of the organization before the summer holidays. Mrs. Wood is leaving Red Deer.

Identifying wild flowers occupied the attention of members of the Alberta Natural History Society at their regular monthly meeting. A good variety of flowers had been brought by the members and Tom Beveridge of the Y.V.C.A. and A20 C.A.S.C. Training Centre here, led in naming the specimens. In the absence of President Kerry Wood, C. H. Snell was in the chair. Next month it is planned to arrange a trip some evening to a canyon.

Vegreville Girl Guides Active In Formation of Other Companies

The 53d I.O.D.E. Company, Canadian Girl Guides, Vegreville, is a bright, alert group, really training for service in a democratic world. Members have aided their sponsors, the Major Fane Chapter, I.O.D.E., in making toys for war work funds, packed a ditty bag for the navy, contributed to the Red Cross and have finished three layettes for the Canadian Girl Guides' gift to Britain.

Rather more interesting has been the assistance they have rendered the divisional commissioner, Miss Daphne Garrison, captain of the Vegreville Company, in visiting newer companies being organized or reorganized in the district. These are springing up as fast as they can find leaders, for there is a trend toward service among youngsters as among their elders.

Vegreville Guides have acted as color parties at enrolments at Chipman, Mundare and Innisfree, in the last three weeks.

At Chipman the captain, Mrs. V. J. Dietrich, left last year. This fall the guides induced their new teacher, Miss Emily Kozak, to act as captain. Miss Vera Motyka, a guide who had passed 18 years, became acting lieutenant, and the company continued on a co-operative basis, everyone learning together.

TEA PROVIDES FUNDS
A tea provided funds and showed the community what the guides were doing. Little sisters of the Guides are the Brownies under the guidance of Mrs. Julia Lucas who succeeds Mrs. Jester this season.

NEW MUNDARE COMPANY
In Mundare, citizens decided their girls as well as their boys needed special training for service. The boys have air cadets; it was felt the girls should have guides. The company which had been inactive for some time was re-organized under the leadership of Mrs. Peter J. Meehan, with Mrs. Walter Spachinsky as lieutenant.

They have had extra drill from Mr. Ewachuik, cadet instructor, and have been offered help with the Morse code from Mr. King.

On May 9 the commissioner, with Miss Lola Dyer, lieutenant of the Vegreville company, and five Girl Guides were driven to Mundare by Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Third. They were met by 19 new guides, all in uniform, looking very smart. All passed the tenderfoot test, almost without error and were duly enrolled. The Vegreville Guides formed as color party.

The enrolment of the First Innisfree company took place two nights later. Five more Vegreville Guides were chosen to accompany their officers and Mrs. A. W. Shaw drove them to Innisfree.

The Innisfree girls are under Capt. Betty Brinton and Lt. Evelyn Green, two able teachers who already had a flourishing girls' club when they decided to turn it into a guide company. Sponsors are the local branch of the Women's Institute.

Sports Highlight Holiday Activities

By The Canadian Press
Sports events highlighted Canada's fifth wartime Dominion Day holiday—the 77th anniversary of Confederation—with ideal holiday weather in most major centres.

War workers in the majority of the big plants from coast to coast were given a holiday both Saturday and today and thousands took advantage to spend their time at summer resorts and beaches. Some war plants closed Friday and will not resume operations until next Sunday—giving all employees a week's holiday.

There were no official observances in the large cities although special church ceremonies were held in some centres.

Railway, bus and steamship lines reported record or near-record crowds travelling, and automobile traffic was heavy with many people heading for summer camps.

Navy Needs Met
WINNIPEG, July 3.—(CP)—Navy Minister Angus Macdonald said here Saturday that naval recruiting needs are being sufficiently met. "We are getting a little more than 2,000 men each month," he said.

Air Power

Command of the Skies

By Maj. A. P. de Severaky

Dispatches from the European fronts these days are peppered with expressions like "command of the skies", "air superiority", "mastery in the air". They are used almost indiscriminately in dispatches and accepted in the same vague spirit by readers.

Yet from the standpoint of air power principles, there are important differences in meaning. In attempting to clarify these differences I am not merely being pedantic. It is of practical importance that as a nation we avoid confusion on the role of air power, and the offhand use of terms by laymen, as well as some military men, does add to the confusion.

"Mastery of the skies" is a condition which implies that hostile forces are being fully eliminated. It denotes that our own air power has full, unmoistened and unchallenged freedom of aerial navigation. Merely to define it is therefore to indicate that we have not now and at no point in the past have enjoyed mastery of the air over Europe. We succeeded in inflicting enormous damage on the enemy's industry and on his air power, but we did this despite fierce and costly opposition.

In the pure aerial offensive against Germany which ended with the invasion, it should be remembered, our losses in the air, wherever we attacked vital objectives which the Germans decided to defend, were higher than the enemy's losses. In weight of aircraft, rather than in numbers, we often lost six times as much aviation and in personnel the ratio was frequently ten to one against us. We were able to absorb this cost in men and machines by virtue of our superior airplane output and manpower. But Jenkins, H. Pearson, E. Kennedy, F. Bentley, E. Payne and Mrs. Norman Payne and Mrs. R. W. Payne, Harold, Spagans, president-elect of the Rotary club, was honored at the last meeting. He will leave here shortly to take up duties in the Fort McMurray oil field. A funeral service was held in St. John's Church, Tuesday for Delbert Isiah Cheley, a prominent farmer of the Westside district, north west of here for the last 26 years. Mr. and Mrs. Cheley were caught in the heavy rain storm on Saturday afternoon while returning from town. The road was greasy and Mr. Cheley had difficulty in keeping the car on the road. Mrs. Cheley walked home finally and got her son to come with a team. On arriving at the car he found that his father had died, sitting at the steering wheel. Mr. Cheley had been suffering from a heart ailment.

Vice-President Of C.P.R. Ends Tour of Lines

MONTREAL, July 3.—Optimistic as to the eventual turnout of the western Canadian grain crop and as to conditions throughout western Canada generally, W. M. Neal, C. B. E. vice-president Canadian Pacific railway returned to Montreal Friday after completing a thorough and comprehensive inspection of the company's properties between this city and the Rocky Mountains and between the United States border and the Arctic circle, during which he covered 5,525 miles by train and track motor and 3,114 miles by air. He was accompanied by Hon. P. Philippe Brail, C.B.E., K.C., of Montreal.

"I am particularly impressed with the condition of the western crop at the present time and with due regard to conditions during the balance of the growing season the crop this year should again be a notable factor in the food problem being faced, and solved by the Allied world," Mr. Neal said.

IMPORTANCE GROWS

The invasion of Europe, the favorable progress of the armies in Italy and Russia and the liberation of more and more territory in the Pacific all combine to make the Canadian grain crop of increasing importance in the world food picture.

"Canadian railways," Mr. Neal continued, "are in a position to handle whatever volume of grain becomes available and indeed can handle whatever traffic comes their way as they have been doing since the war transformed Canada from a primary producer to the world's fourth industrial nation."

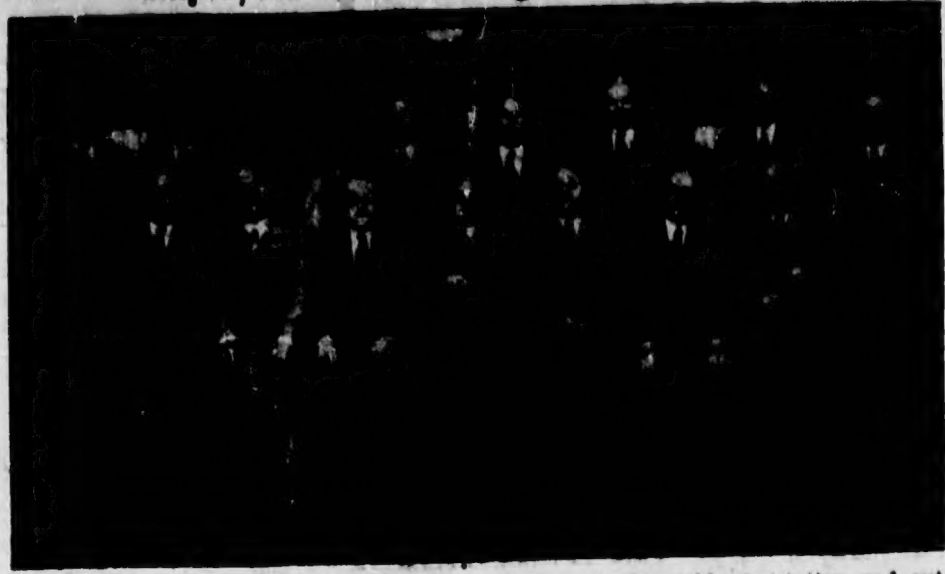

The railways, Mr. Neal emphasized, "have never been the bottleneck, and can deliver goods faster than they can actually be used. The labor situation bulks large in this picture and delivery of grain at the lakehead is governed more by the terminal elevators' labor factor than by the railway's ability to deliver the loaded cars he said.

ENVIABLE POSITION

"My trip across Canada at this time has particularly impressed upon me the fact that with due regard to world conditions, this country will be in an enviable position insofar as international trade is concerned after the conclusion of hostilities.

"Grains, oil, minerals, lumber and

Employees Receive Long Service Awards

At a surprise ceremony held at the Gillette Safety Razor Company's Montreal plant last week, employees gathered to honor a number of their fellow-workers who have attained service records ranging from 25 to 33 years, and aggregating 400 years. Visitors from the Gillette Company, Boston, J. P. Spang, Jr., president and R. N. Rigby, comptroller, assisted when each of the long-service men was presented with a handsomely engraved gold watch. J. I. Stampleman, president of Gillette Safety Razor Co. of Canada Limited, himself a 25-year member of the company, offered congratulations on behalf of the management, and stressed his feeling that the event further expressed the most cordial of employee-company partnerships. "Together with many others who are approaching a similar service record," he added, "you have contributed immeasurably toward establishing and maintaining the Gillette Company's favorable reputation and outstanding position in the shaving products industry." After the presentation ceremony, a dinner was held at the Mount Royal Hotel. In the above picture are shown, left to right, seated: H. Holden, foreman, heat treating; V. G. Byers, Toronto, sales representative; D. P. Cotter, Montreal, sales representative; J. I. Stampleman, president; J. V. Komaroff, superintendent; J. E. Hastie, secretary; J. M. Dunbar, foreman, packing department. Standing, from the left: W. F. Shaver, Montreal, sales representative (formerly in charge of sales office, Brussels, Belgium); J. Webb, electrician; C. H. Edick, Winnipeg, sales representative; P. Turcotte, plating department; J. A. Morris, foreman, stores department; J. Wright, foreman millwright; E. Craig, foreman, razor frame department; J. Seery, foreman, finished stock department.

many other valuable raw materials what the world will urgently need are not only available but in fact due to the war, have been developed to a point which holds definite promise for future Canadian prosperity both in the raw material and industrial fields.

"Careful planning, study of markets and world needs will," Mr. Neal said, "give substance to what holds every promise of being a splendid and striking opportunity for this country. Transportation will play a great part in this post-war development as it is doing in the actual war job. Tributes recently paid railways in the United States by the leaders of the armed services for their part in the overall war job can apply equally well to Canadian railways," he emphasized.

Vice-President

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—W. S. Jarvis of Edmonton was elected third vice-president of the Dominion Railway Mail Clerks' Federation at the final meeting of its convention here Saturday. H. A. Clarke of Calgary was re-elected secretary and representative of the federation on the national civil service council.

Veterans Vote To Establish National Unit

FORT WILLIAM, July 3.—(CP)—Formation of a national council of veterans' associations was approved at the Army and Navy Veterans' of Canada convention here yesterday.

Delegates approved resolutions to advance the welfare and rehabilitation of veterans of this war and the First Great War, and re-elected T. G. Howard of Selkirk, Man., president by acclamation.

Other officers elected included George Pene, Regina, first vice-president; J. Laszby, Belleville, Ont., second vice-president; and George Ferguson, Fort William, third vice-president.

UNITE ALL GROUPS

The resolution approving the National Council of Veterans' associations stated that chartered veterans groups for the first time since the war would be united in representative body which could speak with an authoritative voice in all matters affecting the separate bodies.

The convention urged consideration by the federal government of a scheme of co-operative farming under provisions of the Veterans' Land act. The scheme, the resolution said, should be included in the federal government's reconstruction and rehabilitation program and include special provisions for those who are married or have dependents.

The proposal for separate army and navy units for women of the armed forces was approved.

Delegates at the closing session

"Oh, it's just that little guy in the next hut! He's having a feud with us!"

decided to hold the 1946 convention in Edmonton.

OTHER RESOLUTIONS

Other resolutions adopted urged that the federal government retain war emergency powers during post-war years to ensure implementation of rehabilitation.

That the veterans of two wars be granted a pension of $50 a month with marriage allowance and hospital treatment.

That special treatment be given veterans serving in two wars on the basis of age and service.

That veterans of 1914-1918 be included in the present rehabilitation program, if they so desire.

That no families of men on active service be evicted during the present war.

DEPORT JAPANESE

That steps be taken for deportation of Japanese immediately following cessation of hostilities.

That there be no immigration of aliens until five years after the war.

That all members of His Majesty's service in the present war be entitled to common treatment in regard to vocational training and farm settlement schemes.

That a veteran in receipt of an allowance be entitled to earnings that would bring his total income to $1,750 annually if married, and

Home-Building To Be Limited By Shortages

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—Housing construction in Canada must be limited in 1944 by shortages of materials and labor, Lionel Chevrier, parliamentary assistant to Munitions Minister Howe, said in a statement made in the Commons Friday on behalf of Mr. Howe.

In a review of the construction situation, the statement said housing construction licenses were being issued only in areas where houses were required and within limits set by the expected availability of materials.

WANTS WORK DELAYED

The shortages which would restrict residential building applied also to commercial and industrial construction and the minister asked those now holding licenses for such projects to give serious consideration to postponing the work until the supply situation eased.

Recent amendments to the National Housing Act to give assistance in financing home building had been erroneously interpreted in some quarters as indicating a general government policy of encouraging immediate construction on a large scale all across Canada.

STRATHCONA
By Don MacDonald

The big baseball leagues had nothing on Strathcona as the house league series came to an exciting finish last Friday, when Dave Ellis' club came out on top in the best of three games in the final series against Niel Taylor. These two clubs were evenly matched, although Ellis' team had never defeated Taylor's squad in the regular schedule. In the first of the finals, Taylor trimmed Ellis' club. Ellis came back strong and won the next. Taylor was on top at the start but in the last inning, Ellis' men tied the score, so extra innings had to be played. The final score was 8-7 for Ellis' team.

The teams were as follows: Ellis' squad: Dave Ellis, Bert Johnson, Don McCombie, Gordon Greenwood, Don MacDonald, Tom Nutball, Harold Williams, Russel Stogball, Claire Gledie, Paddy Adamson, Arnold Widman, Byrom Buchanan, and Don McIntyre. Taylor's team was: John Shippin, Norm Slen, Rod Clark, Don McKay, Bill Rea, Ross Curry, LeRoy Wood, Norm. Martell, Dick MacDonald, Neil Taylor, Allan Evenson and Jim McLaughlin.

On Monday last the Scona's girl baseball team walloped a University high club by the score of 26-2.

Monday morning's presentation of academic and athletic awards brought to an end all activities around Scona for another year. This year proved to be one of the most successful school sessions. After O Canada, Mr. Robertson voiced his approval of the work done by all students in the last year. A short speech by Don MacDonald expressed his thanks to all students for their co-operation in activities, and then the president introduced the coaches of various clubs, who after much applause proceeded to present team members with all the numerous sports crests. The prized Rutherford cup was presented to the soccer coach, Mr. Clark, and will soon find its way to our trophy room.

The graduation issue of the U.S. Torch rolled off the press last week. Featured were writeups of the members of the Grad Class, their pasts, presents, and futures. The paper is indebted to Mrs. Elizabeth S. Haynes for a very fine article on the opera, and to Dr. M. E. LaZerte for an inspiring message to the graduates. The Torch has had a very successful year, and much praise for hard work is due to Jane Becker, editor, Pat Burns, Donna Cross, Janet Lanyon, Mark Millar, Fred Langman and others.

Varsity High is honored in having one of the students, Miss Joyce Perkins, chosen to receive the oral French scholarship for northern Alberta awarding her tuition fees to the Banff School of Fine Arts.

In the graduation ceremony, R. S. Sheppard, superintendent of schools, gave the farewell address. The class was presented to G. Robertson, principal of Strathcona High School by M. W. "This is an elegant place," said Teddy. "The grass is like a big GREEN carpet with YELLOW dandelion designs on it." "So it is," said Susie May. "See, Dolly likes it, and I'm letting her sit in her BLUE bathing suit while I wash out her PURPLE dress. See the YELLOW, PINK and PURPLE bubbles in my wash tub. Aren't they pretty?" The washboard was BROWN and the basket was RED. YELLOW-haired Susie May wore a BLUE sun-bonnet, and a BLUE and white gingham apron over her PINK play suit. She had Dolly's chair, too—a cute little RED chair. BROWN-haired Teddy brought his RED and BLUE ball over to play with Susie May after the wash was finished. Dolly's curls were YELLOW like Susie May's and all had ROSEY-PINK cheeks and RED lips—Susie May, Teddy and Dolly. The border can be colored YELLOW, the lettering RED.

Edmonton is the home of homogenized milk, and Edmonton citizens were the first on the North American Continent to enjoy its rich, full-flavored goodness. As a wartime measure to increase the production of butter and cheese for Canada's wartime needs, we feel sure you will cheerfully forego the enjoyment of homogenized milk for our fighting men and women—putting VICTORY FIRST. After the war we hope to be permitted to resume the sale of this popular product.

Our drivers will make the necessary exchange or refund on all outstanding 4c B.F. Homogenized tickets. As this entails a tedious, time-consuming job for already overtaxed drivers, we bespeak for them your understanding and helpful co-operation.

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

WITH just one more game to reach the half-way mark in the local senior ball loop, so far as they are concerned, Dodgers may now sit back and enjoy the scenery until Saturday night. They have a comfortable lead of two and one-half games over the Yanks and are three above Signals.

Quite appropriately, Tuesday being July 4, will be all-American day at Renfrew with the Yanks and Signals resuming their tug-of-war for second place. Wayne Adams' club at the moment has a slight edge. Yanks have played three less than Dodgers and they also have one in hand over the Signals.

Yesterday's was the fifth consecutive loss for Arrows and although they are reposing in the cellar, only a half game separates them from Signals. Three of the seven reverses they have sustained were in the four games with Dodgers. There is no senior season at Renfrew this evening.

DODGER POWER TELLS
DODGERS overcame Arrows yesterday's slip through power, 13 hits as against seven for the latter, but then, of course, Harry Baldwin wasn't lobbing balls where the opposition could get hold of them.

Fielding, of the league leaders, was too good too, just one error being charged up to them and that was on Len Haines in the fifth, when Eddie Williams got his hands on the ball after quite a chase running with the ball.

Feature of recent games of the Dodgers has been their newly-found batting punch, while a couple of big guns are in a slump. Baldwin has only three hits to show for his last 19 times at bat and Morgan has clicked just three times in 17.

Dave Brockie, however, has bang-

Officers Suffer First Loss In Men's Fastball League

The U.S.A.F. Officers' winning streak was halted at nine straight in the City Men's Fastball League on Friday night when they lost their first game of the season by a 6-2 score at the hands of the cellar dwelling Aircraft Repair team at Kingsway Park. The girls' game between C.P.A. and Walk-Rite "A" was defaulted by the former.

The Officers, however, were without the pitching services of Mike Milner, their outstanding chucker who has won nine in a row and has yet to be beaten.

Paul Little took over the hurling duties of the Officers and allowed the Aircrafters 13 hits, three of which were made by John Hruska, one being a triple in the sixth with Bob Rogers on base.

Wilbur Orr went the distance for the Aircraft club and became the first pitcher to beat the Officers while he checked sixth ball.

The U.S. team scored a run in the third inning to take the lead when Fred Nidder singled to right field, went to second on a wild pitch, third on a hit by Harold Peterson and then came in when Major Blaisdell flied out to centre.

Two winners got that marker back and added another one in the fifth to go ahead. Orr made two bases on an overthrow by third-sacker Blaisdell at first, advanced to third on a wild pitch, and was batted in by Bill Rogers who singled to centre and came the rest of the way around on an error by the centre fielder.

Bob Rogers, Hruska and Lya Aircrafters to make it 5-1. Donenko all scored in the sixth for the Chenoweth tallied for the Americans in the seventh and Harry Kincaid came through for the winners in the eighth to finish the counting.

Following is the box score:

Gower Mon, Upset Winner Canadian Derby

Acara Third With Place to Cum Laude

By WALLY HILTON

WINNIPEG, July 3.—(CP)—Gower Mon, owned by the Whittier Park stock farm, broke all rules and regulations here Saturday by winning the $5,000 added Canadian Derby feature event of the Dominion Day horse races at Polo Park.

Gower Mon, picked to come at best fourth or fifth in the six-horse field and listed by some handicappers as "badly outclassed", defeated such horses as Acara this year's King's Plate winner, Ompalo, Acara's running mate, and Cum Laude, in a finish drive that had a crowd of approximately 15,000 going wild. It was a photo finish.

Time for the mile and a quarter was 2:18 2-5. The record for the distance, established by Shasta Sheik in 1929, is 2:07 4-5.

Acara, owned by H. C. Hatch of Toronto, and ridden by Bobby Watson, took the lead shortly after the start, but didn't seem to like the slow track. At the halfway mark he fell back to second, then came back to lead by two lengths coming into the stretch.

All this time Gower Mon kept within striking distance with Cum Laude close behind. With less than 40 yards to go, Acara weakened and Gower Mon seized the opportunity and passed the King's Plate winner with just strides to go. Gower Mon, ridden by Joe Braddish, won by three-quarters of a length over Cum Laude, who best Acara by a head for second place. There was no wagering on the race.

Ompalo, with Jockey Roy Russell up, never really proved dangerous. Ompalo broke out of the gate in third position but fell back to fifth place as the horses rounded into the stretch. Despite a strong effort he could finish no better than fourth, four lengths ahead of Acara, owned by A. G. Tarn, of Chicago. Pagan Star, owned by N. D. Campbell, of Okotoks, Alta., finished last.

Gower Mon, out of Golden Gower and Fair Moneta, and trained by L. R. Knifong, earned $4,465 by winning.

Cum Laude, owned by Dr. L. H. Appleby of Vancouver enriched its owner by $800 for second money. Acara and Ompalo earned $500 and $100 respectively, for third and fourth money.

HORSES TOO POPULAR—NO MUTUEL WAGERING

WINNIPEG, July 3.—(CP)—For the third time since its inception the Canadian Derby has been declared "betless" by R. James Speers, managing director of the Winnipeg Jockey Club. Acara, one of the horses nominated Friday won the King's Plate at Toronto a month ago and Speers said he felt the H. C. Hatch entry of the fast grey horse and Ompalo would attract prohibitive weight of mutuel play.

All except Divulge carried an impost of 121 pounds.

It's the second time a Hatch entry has been considered too popular to allow betting on the mile-and-a-quarter classic. There was no mutuel wagering when Hatch's Goldure won the Derby in 1937.

In the 1942 renewal, Harry Giddings' Ten To Ace was a heavy favorite and no betting was allowed but the horse, in poor form, finished last after setting the pace for six furlongs.

Roshenko Birds Take Long Race

Birds owned by Alex Roshenko took the first four places in a 195-mile pigeon race yesterday sponsored by the Capital City Racing Pigeon Club. A total of 80 birds started in the race at Unity, Sask., but only seven had arrived back at their lofts last night.

Fifth place in this race went to an entry of Scott Thompson's. The birds were flying under poor climatic conditions and were facing head winds.

The Burmese considered tattooing a fine art.

Fred Colbourne Rink Wins Lawn Bowling Tournament

Fred Colbourne's Royal rink captured top honors in the Dominion Day lawn bowling tournament Saturday when they posted five wins and then defeated Colin Allan's crew, also from the Royal in the final. Allan also registered five straight in the tourney before being beaten in the playoff and forced to take second place.

At the end of the regular five games, Colbourne and Allan had five victories each. A Templeton of Edmonton and H. C. Howard of Westlawn both had four wins and a draw and W. MacNeill, Royal; W. Nesbit, Patricia; A. Allen, Garneau; C. Cameron, Patricia; and T. Wigston, Patricia, all had four triumphs and one loss.

Colbourne and Allan met for first and second prizes. Templeton and Howard played off for third and fourth spots, Templeton winning out and Allen, Cameron, MacNeill, Nesbit and Wigston all bowled off with Allen taking fifth place, Cameron sixth, MacNeill seventh and Nesbit eighth. Wigston was eliminated from the prizes by losing in the first round of the playoff among the five tied with four wins and a loss.

All playoffs were four ends and were staged at the Edmonton green. Following is the personnel of first eight rinks:

Yanks Shade All-Stars 3-1 In Benefit Baseball Game

WITH Forrest Hunter holding the All-Stars hitless until the seventh and without a run until the final frame, Yanks defeated the All-Stars 3-1 in the benefit baseball exhibition at Renfrew Park on Saturday night.

Sponsored by the Earl of Chester Chapter, I.O.E.E. with the proceeds to go for war charities, the game set a new high for the past two years at least, in speed, being played in exactly 1 hour, 38 minutes. No announcement was made as to the total ticket sale, but 1,400 were disposed of at the gate.

Helmut Brown, pitcher for the All-Stars shut off the Yanks with just two hits for five innings, but Manuel Dorsky's double which followed an error and a pair of walks in the sixth, resulted in three runs—none of them earned.

LEADS OFF WITH SINGLE

Columbus Birchfield started off the Yank half of the first chapter with a single to right field, but he never got past the initial station, for Schumacher, Galvin and Valenti went out in order.

Hunter dropped the Yanks' second safety also into right to open the third and he advanced two bases on fielder's choice and Brown tossed out Galvin at first for the third out to end that threat.

All-Stars came close to scoring in the fourth. Lester Nelson got a life on shortstop Galvin's low throw to first and reached the middle sack. Bob Sawyer walked and Fred Lupul laid down a sacrifice advancing both runners.

Bert Culver hit to Dorsky in left field but the Yank fly-chaser gathered in the ball and a perfect throw to Al Goodrich at the plate nailed Nelson.

THREE IN SIXTH
The game was won by the Yanks with two down in the sixth. Valenti reached first when his ground ball got away from Culver and he stole second. Johnny Gray and Pete Meyers were rewarded by waiting for four wide ones and three galloped home when Dorsky boomed out a double to the scoreboard in left.

Dorsky was caught trying to stretch the hit into a triple—Superstein to Culver to Nelson. Sawyer's double, Stafford's pinch single and an error at short on Stevenson's roller gave All-Stars their lone run.

Dave Brockie made a great throw to the plate to cut off a Yank run in the eighth, following Galvin's double and Gray's single.

Pete Meyers had 16 putouts at first for the Yanks.

St. Louis Browns Not Hitting Well

Claims Manager

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—Although the league-leading St. Louis Browns got away from an inauspicious start on their 20-game eastern invasion, Manager Luke Sewell isn't ready to name any club that's to be in front of his boys when the time comes to compare World Series opponents.

"We're just as good a bet as any other club in the American League," said the Browns' pilot Friday before going out to salvage the last game of the three-game series with the Yankees.

As if to prove it, the Browns won 3-0.

"If we should start hitting, we could pull away from the field. Up to now it has been the team's hustle and pitching that has carried us along at such a lively clip."

But it is the Browns' lack of power at the plate that has Luke guessing. Latest averages show the Browns sixth with a .248 percentage and Vern Stephens pacing the regulars with .290.

"A couple of weeks ago I thought we had started," said Sewell, "but Stephens went into a slump and the entire club has failed to hit with men on bases."

Until Sigmund Jakucki was touched for one run in the ninth of last Thursday's game with the Yanks he had hurled 28 scoreless innings for Browns.

League Leaders Hit Hard

Baldwin Pitches Dodgers To 5-1 Triumph Over Arrows

DRIVING out 13 hits, four of them for extra bases, Dodgers decided Arrows 5-1 at Renfrew Park on Sunday afternoon and increased their lead in the Senior Baseball League over the second-place Yanks to two and a half games.

In racking up his second win of the season, Capt. Harry Baldwin pitched seven-hit ball and allowed only two of the losers to reach third base. Arrows collected a pair of bingles in both the fifth and sixth frames, with singletons in the third, fourth and seventh.

Commencement of the game was delayed for several minutes by a heavy downpour of rain and the players slithered around in mud for the first few innings.

START HITTING EARLY

Hits by Ab Superstein and Dave Brockie and a walk to Ralph Morgan gave the Dodgers a good scoring chance in the opening stanza, but no damage resulted. Cloide Hensley got a life in the second with one down, but Eddie Williams hit into a double play to retire the side—Ed Gauf to Sammy Kahn to Bill Welch.

Baldwin walked Ed Gauf in the first inning and Welch in the second, but the Arrows' initial hit was Hal Stafford's drive into left in the third session. A sacrifice by Ed Gauf sent Hal to second, but he died there.

Dodgers picked up their first counter in the fourth. Brockie was safe on an error at second and after Baldwin and Morgan were retired, Doug Stevenson singled, bringing in Brockie. Hensley's double sent Stevenson to strike, but Stafford got Williams on strikes.

BIG DAY IN FIELD

Capt. Frank Wrigglesworth, who was having a great day in the field with seven assists and a pair of putouts, shot a single into left to start off the fifth. Superstein followed with a double and both scored on Brockie's triple to deep right to raise the count to 3-0.

Stafford's hit, followed by an infield scratch single by Ed Gauf and an error at short on Len Haines' ground ball gave Arrows their run in the fifth.

Bill Gauf relieved Stafford in the seventh and struck out six in the three innings. A walk to Shandro, Brockie's third hit and a single by Morgan, the latter being followed by an error in left field, let in another Dodger run in the seventh.

Eddie Williams tripled in the eighth and came home on Shandro's safety into right for the final run of the game.

Horse Drops Dead Hamilton Track

HAMILTON, Ont., July 3.—(CP)—Jockey Bobby Summers of Winnipeg Thursday suffered his second injury of the 1944 turf season when his horse, Eden Court, dropped dead going into the stretch of the fifth and feature race at the Hamilton Jockey Club, pitching him to the ground. Eden Court was trailing the field at the time.

Summers was taken to the track hospital and later to the Hamilton General Hospital, where he was reported to be suffering a slight concussion.

Early in the racing at Toronto's Woodbine Park this spring, Summers had his leg crushed against the inner rail when his mount broke in from the gate and the others moved over him. He recovered in time to become one of the leading riders of the Dufferin Park spring season which closed June 22.

With the intention of signing him on for a bout. When he saw how out of condition the ex-soldier was, he refused to promote a fight for him, but advised him to trim down a bit and try again.

Seven Assists

In addition to ringing up a hit which team-mates Ab Superstein and Dave Brockie converted into a run, Capt. Frank Wrigglesworth did a good day's business around second base for the Dodgers at Renfrew yesterday afternoon. Frank collected seven assists and a pair of putouts without a slip.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—Overseas sports roundup:
Pacific sport office:
Francis E. Buckley, who was last heard of when he quarterbacked the all-navy team in Bermuda's Lily Bowl football classic last January, sends word from the central Pacific that the Seabees out there would like some football uniforms. . . . "The Seabee Athletic Association is in its infancy, but in competition with other service teams has made an excellent record," Buckley writes. "Last week the boxing team defeated the army air force, the track team placed third in an eleven-team A.A.U. meet. May 29th. Plans are under way to place a football team in competition this fall. The only drawback is the lack of uniforms."

SPORT Oddities

If the greyhound had a sense of smell as highly developed as that of other dogs, greyhound racing would be impossible. In 1939 at the Bayshore track, San Francisco, the greyhound racers actually caught the mechanical rabbit and tore it to bits. Muzzler didn't stop them.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Within the next couple of weeks the brass hats at Washington will get a memorable fill in on the application of football tactics to modern aerial warfare; also on the advisability of making football a compulsory sport for every able bodied lad in our high schools and colleges.

This fill in will be provided by Commander Joseph Clifton, the fighting air group commander of a navy plane carrier who has just returned from 15 months of combat duty in the Pacific—from battle areas that included the Solomons, the Gilberts, the Marshalls and the Indian Ocean.

Because of the singular successes of his unit, Clifton of Paducah, Ky.—former smashing fullback at Annapolis—has been invited to Washington for "conferences."

MIRACLE COMMANDER

DURING his 5,042 hours of combat flying, as leader of V-12 Grumman Hell Cats and as air group commander, his units destroyed 102 Japanese planes and damaged 189 more. All this without the loss of a single plane, dive bomber or torpedo plane. No wonder he is considered a "miracle" commander.

Commander Clifton, holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross, steadfastly declines to discuss his own exploits, because he insists that teamwork, rather than individual brilliance, is the basis of successful modern air fighting—just as it is the basis of success on the gridiron.

Chatting last Thursday night at the Club 21, Commander Clifton—big brown haired possessor of a slightly mashed nose—said: "I thank my lucky stars that I was well grounded in football before I moved into the Pacific. The football tactics I had absorbed at Paducah High and at the naval academy proved the most valuable things I had ever learned. Naturally, you think I'm exaggerating; you can't appreciate fully what I mean unless you've played football and then been up there in combat formation."

TEAMWORK IMPORTANT
THE rugged, 35-year-old officer, recounted his remarks with a stabbing forefinger, and his brown eyes blazed with crusading glints as he continued: "The important thing in the air or on the football field is teamwork. There is this difference—if you make a mistake on the gridiron, it may cost lives—including your own. That's why it's so important to have a proper conception of teamwork when you go into the air—to appreciate fully the extreme importance of carrying out your individual assignment—exactly in accord with signals."

In action off a carrier, he explained, each type of plane has its assigned job to do—the V.T.'s (fighters). When the men in one group, know that the men in another group will carry out their assignments perfectly, it fills the first group with confidence and increases their efficiency.

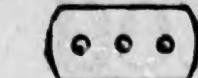

Commander Clifton made the navy academy varsity when he was a sophomore, only soph on the squad, in 1927. Army beat Navy that year; and it was his last game against Cadets, as Army and Navy broke off relations temporarily. But his '28 team was runnerup for the eastern championship. Full details will be given at Washington shortly.

UNION AGAINST JAPS STAYING IN ALBERTA

CALGARY, July 3.—(CP)—Opposition to establishment of Japanese as permanent residents of Alberta was declared by the Union of Alberta Municipalities in a resolution passed at the annual convention here Friday afternoon.

Return of all internees and prisoners of war to their country of origin as soon as possible after the cessation of hostilities was requested in a resolution adopted by the convention.

HEALTH AMENDMENT

A public health act amendment empowering municipalities to collect from isolation hospital patients or where the patient is unable to pay, from the municipality wherein permanent residence is established, was sought in a Pincher Creek resolution carried by the convention.

As a result of an outbreak of communicable disease among resident pupils of a convent at Pincher Creek, the municipality had been saddled with the expense of providing isolation treatment for "outsiders" said a Pincher Creek delegate sponsoring the resolution.

These pupils were from Edmonton, Regina and other points in the province and the municipality had no legal way of collecting isolation hospital fees.

The union will request the federal government "As a matter of immediate and pressing urgency" to announce its monetary policy for financing post-war reconstruction projects, and specifically the basis upon which funds will be made available to municipal governments for municipal and school projects.

CONTINUED PRESSURE

Continued pressure will be brought to bear by the union in an effort to get the provincial government to assume the responsibility of construction and maintenance of provincial highways throughout urban centres.

Men in the armed forces will be made available insofar as the demands of war permit, while workers will be brought from the east after harvest is finished there.

Canadians in France Mark Dominion Day

By WILLIAM STEWART

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, July 3.—(CP)

—Headquarters' personnel of Canadian formations in Normandy observed Dominion Day with a brief ceremony during which the Canadian ensign was saluted by commanders, officers and other ranks.

The senior Canadian commander in France read a message of congratulations from Prime Minister Mackenzie King at the ceremony Saturday. Then he delivered a brief address himself to the officers and soldiers on parade before him.

Prayers were read beneath the flying ensign by two Canadian padres, Maj. R. A. McCleary, Toronto, and Maj. J. M. Malone, Edmonton. Then "O Canada" was sung.

PREMIER'S MESSAGE

Prime Minister King's message conveyed by the commander said: "Would you please let the officers and men of Canada's army serving under your command know that as we approach Dominion Day they are more than ever in the thoughts of all Canadians. Please tell them that Canada is proud beyond words of their courage, initiative and magnificent achievements and that we, with them, are counting the days until we may welcome them home as members of a victorious army."

The Canadian commander told the men he knew they would maintain the reputation they established in battle so "quickly and splendidly."

"There will be tough times ahead," he said. "There shall also be great accomplishments and final victory."

The general commanding the Canadians in France was not identified in this dispatch but it has been disclosed previously that Maj. Gen. R. F. L. Keller of Kelowna, B.C., is in command of the Canadian 3rd Division in France.

The action was brought against the police by the dead man's father, Albert Langdon of Lewiston.

Men of Services, Eastern Workers For West Harvest

WINNIPEG, July 3.—(CP)—Men of the services, surplus eastern harvesters and high school students will be called to air western farmers during the harvest season, Arthur MacNamara, director of National Selective Service, said Friday in an interview here.

"With five out of every eight persons over the age of 14 engaged in essential war services, the pool of labor available is restricted," he said.

"By making the best use of mobile labor, we hope to be able to take off the crop without difficulty."

Men in the armed forces will be made available insofar as the demands of war permit, while workers will be brought from the east after harvest is finished there.

LONDON MEETING

Next year's convention will be held in London, Ont.

Endorsement was given by the association to Canada's present program against venereal disease, and continued vigorous action against prostitutes was urged.

"Venereal disease is Canada's greatest public health problem, and is of such proportions that it seriously affects the efficiency of the nation both in war and peace," the resolution said.

Other resolutions recommended all firearms bear a serial number; asked that steps be taken to secure a pension scheme for all police departments; and contended police organizations should not affiliate with any organizations claiming it necessary to the performance of police officers that they be strictly impartial.

Executive board members appointed include: Alberta—S. J. Patterson, chief constable, Calgary; Saskatchewan—A. Calder, chief constable, Moose Jaw; Manitoba—J. B. Scott, asst. chief, department of investigation, C.N.R., Winnipeg.

McGeer Fears New Collapse Following War

or the public to buy or sell securities and could only invite their cooperation.

Graham Towers, governor of the Bank of Canada, said that if there appeared to be the danger that speculation was going too far suggestions might be made to banks and stock exchanges. If necessary, public statements could be made on the situation and it could be drawn to the attention of the government.

If there were a problem of undue expansion of credit in the field of call loans and the like, some direct action might be taken to check this expansion rather than using the device of curtailing cash made available by the Bank of Canada.

"You have never had to smash a boom yet," said Mr. McGeer.

CANT STOP DEFLATION

J. W. Noseworthy (C.C.F.-York South) said it appeared the Bank of Canada had no means of preventing deflation if the chartered banks called in loans and made no new loans.

Mr. Towers said he thought the interpretation too extreme. The banks might call in loans because they were frightened about the safety of these loans. If the banks were unnecessarily nervous, the Bank of Canada authorities might say so.

Norman Jaques (S.C.-Wetaskiwin) said that the United States appeared to have acquired $22,000,000,000 of gold now in storage for "nothing."

Mr. Towers said United States gold purchases were secured by gold certificates which were in effect deposit receipts.

"The certificates are only warehouse receipts for the gold," said Mr. Jaques.

The committee resumes next Tuesday.

Probe of Lumber Industry in B.C. Asked in House

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—Tom Reid (L., New Westminster) said Friday in the Commons that the federal government should open an investigation into what he called a "monopoly" in the British Columbia lumber industry.

Mr. Reid said the "MacMillan interests" controlled or would control the entire timber trade in British Columbia in such a way that it would be difficult for a returned man to set up a sawmill. The provincial government had been silent and the C.C.F. had maintained a "sinister silence" about the situation. He believed the interests concerned would rather have the C.C.F. "in power than Tom Reid."

On Vancouver Island the "MacMillan interests" had the equal of 30 years' timber supply.

Navy League Plans to Sponsor Membership Drive Starting July 10

Starting July 10, The Navy League of Canada will launch a three-month campaign throughout the province with the objective of obtaining $100,000 in memberships aggregating $100,000.

"Never in the history of the maritime world has a navy grown so rapidly as has Canada's," an official stated.

When this war broke out, Canada's navy consisted of six destroyers and a half-dozen other small craft. Today Canadians are manning more than 500 ships and there are some 60,000 of them ashore and afloat.

The destroyers Fraser, Margaree, Ottawa, St. Croix and Athabasca have gone down through enemy action; so have the corvettes Weyburn, Loubourg, Levin, Windflower, Spikeland and Charlotte. The minesweeper Bras d'Or and patrol ships Raccoon and Otter are also in the fleet of vanished vessels. It is not generally known that casualties in the Merchant Navy have been, to date, even greater than any of the three armed services.

Backing up the men of the Canadian Navy and the men of the Merchant Marine is the Navy League of Canada.

The remarkable growth of the Canadian Navy and the Dominion ship-building program have placed a great deal of strain on the resources of the League. These additional duties and responsibilities have been cheerfully assumed because members of the Navy League feel that they are playing an important part in the war effort of Canada and in aiding the morale of the seamen.

Canadian naval forces are operating in all parts of the world; its chief task, however, has been to supply three-fifths of the protection of the North Atlantic convoy system—that vital link to Great Britain and Russia.

Many new responsibilities have been given to the Navy League, and many new and necessary services have been undertaken by the Navy League at the request of those officials in Canada in command of Naval Services and Merchant Seamen operations.

Police Probing Several Thefts Over Week-End

Numerous reports of thefts of money, together with the investigation and subsequent arrest and lock-up of two young boys for unlawfully entering a city home, kept police busy over the holiday week-end.

A wrist watch valued at $18, together with $20 in cash, were stolen from his room sometime Sunday night, A. E. Oatway, 9904 105 street, told police early Monday.

The money had been removed from a wallet in his trousers, and the clothing had been left on the floor, he said.

Thomas Barnsley of Strome, a guest of the Alberta hotel, was out $70 as the result of a visit from a thief on Saturday night. Robert Chislow, 15-year-old son of a Strome farmer for whom Barnsley works was also without money, when he was taken from his wallet.

Barnsley stated he found his empty wallet in a wash-basin, while that of his companion was found on the floor. The door of the room had been left unlocked.

Three roomers in the Western rooms, 100 street and 103 avenue, were relieved of money the same night, Mike Feduk, proprietor of the rooms, told police.

They were Dan McLean, who lost $10.40; Carl A. Magnuson, who lost $11; and another man, absent during police investigation and whose name was not learned, who lost $2.

In each case, police were told, the thieves took the clothing from the rooms of the owners and left them in the hallway of the building.

Two youths, believed to be about 14 years old, were thought responsible.

FIND TWO BOYS
Two boys, 14 and 15 years old respectively, brought to Edmonton about a week ago and placed in the Children's Shelter, were in the South Side lock-up Sunday, after being surprised in the bathroom of a city residence. The two left the shelter a short time before.

Owner of the house, Mrs. C. M. Dewar, together with her family, were away at the time the two boys entered the place through the bathroom window. Police responded to the call of a nearby resident and found the boys before they had gone through the dwelling.

HAD BEEN ACTIVE
One of the boys, who said that he had broken into "eight or 10 places" at Nacmire, was brought from that settlement on June 24. The other youth was escorted from Fort Murray on the same day, after he had entered a number of homes in that district.

They will appear in juvenile court.

A railway cheque for $42, together with $20 in cash, a Northern Alberta Railways pass and national registration certificate, the property of Steve Buchkowski, Dunvegan Yards, which disappeared more than a week ago, were being sought by the railway's investigation department Saturday, city police were notified.

Expects to Name 50 Candidates For Next Vote

It is probable the Independent party will name candidates for 50 of the 57 seats in Alberta's Legislature in the coming provincial general election, J. Percy Page, party president, said here Monday.

In constituencies that are predominantly labor, it is probable the Independent party will support straight labor candidates, as the premise upon which the party was initiated recognizes the desirability of labor members in any government, Mr. Page said.

At an independent party meeting held at Red Deer on Saturday, 14 provincial executive members and a number of M.L.A.s were in attendance, when the provincial political situation was thoroughly reviewed.

"I came away quite optimistic as to our chances in the forthcoming election," Mr. Page said. "Naturally, in every election there are bound to be upsets, but I cannot put my finger on any of the seats we now hold and say, 'This one is likely to be lost.' We confidently expect to win a number of seats when we were defeated by a very small margin in 1940."

MORE CONVENTIONS
Additional nominating conventions called by the party will be held on July 12 and Hand Hills July 19. Both ridings are now held by Social Credit party members.

James Walker, Independent party leader, will attend a Camrose constituency convention to be held Thursday night, and will come to Edmonton for a meeting to be held Friday, July 7, at Masonic Temple.

The locomotive passed over him causing but slight injuries. He was rushed to hospital by Smith ambulance.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

With the mosquito plague just reaching its height what method of combating the pests do you recommend?

THE ANSWERS

MARY LONG, student I just let them go ahead and bite me. After a couple of days they don't seem to bother me any more, but I guess I'm one of the lucky ones.

HAL THOMPSON, clerk: I've pretty nearly got them licked. They're so thick on the golf courses they nearly blind and another who but I just cover up as much of me as possible and then slather what's exposed with a variety of "skeeter" dopes. It's a loss-up which is worse than the bites of the smelt.

J. HAMILTON, stenographer: Personally I think it's a losing battle and it's to keep away from them. It would be a help if a well organized attack could be made on the breeding spots in the vicinity of the city. However I suppose with the labor shortage this year that's almost out of the question and we'll just have to hope the weather will co-operate and kill them off.

Luke Verkerk, R.C.O.C., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Luke Verkerk, Fernie, B.C. The Rev. Canon A. M. Tremblay officiated.

350 Present To See Gowns

The stuff that dreams are made of became a reality this afternoon and commonplace everyday life faded into the realm of forgotten things as 350 women watched with fascinated eyes a parade of fabulous costumes that Ginger Rogers wore in the Paramount production, "Color and Fantasy."

"Color and Fantasy" was sponsored by the Junior Hospital League in the Empire room of the Hudson's Bay Company store Monday afternoon and will be repeated Monday evening and Tuesday afternoon.

Entire proceeds will be given to the Provincial Special Unit at the University Hospital and other Junior Hospital League charities.

DIRECTOR COMMENTS

Interest never waned throughout the entire show, as Miss Margaret Clegg, director of the Dorothy Gray Production, commented on the 20 costumes. But the climax was undoubtedly the extravaganza, the mink and crimson sequin costume, and the enchantingly lovely wedding gown.

Filmy skirts frothed about Miss Irene Heyworth's feet as she slowly walked the runway. Tight sleeves and close-fitting bodice were covered with gold thread and sequin embroidery, lavishly sprinkled with pearls. The luxurious flaring nine-foot train of cloth-of-gold was lined with peach tulle and covered with misty chiffon, and bordered deeply with padded scrolls outlined with pearls and sequins. From her high two-pointed headdress floated a long veil, softening the pearl-rimmed circles of the scroll designed crown.

TAILORED SUITS

A motion-picture idea of "tailored" suits was accompanied by muffs or shopping bags, all of huge proportions. A striped grey skirt topped by a plain grey coat, was complemented by an elbow-to-elbow muff of black and grey yarn. Even the leopard pouch bag was large, and a grey and black striped suit frothed out with a matching bag that dwarfed the paper ones carried by Edmonton shoppers.

Gaps of admiration greeted the introduction of the famed mink gown valued at $8,000, worn by Mrs. E. M. Fagan. This was the only gown in the collection designed by a man.

Miss Clegg was the commentator. She is travelling with the clothes, which are valued at $20,000.

The models are Mrs. Jack Charlesworth, Mrs. John Spight, Mrs. Andrew Strang, Miss Jane Ramsey, Mrs. Duncan Innes, Mrs. Robert Howell, Mrs. Walter Luce, Miss Barbara McPherson, Mrs. Douglas Dorrell, Miss Elleen Hunter, Mrs. Allan Hall, Mrs. Alan McTavish, Mrs. Hartford Collins and Mrs. Wilder Ripley.

Ten "Secret Weapons" in Making Japan Is Believed Preparing To Launch Disease Warfare

By HOWARD W. BLAKELEE

NEW YORK, July 3.—(AP)—"Japan's secret weapon," as described in a new book of that title by Barclay Newman, is bacterial, fungus, virus and cancer warfare. Barclay Newman has had both teaching and research experience.

Ten "weapons" are said to be in the making. Newman identifies them as:

1. Malaria—to date the most serious military disease. Newman claims the American defeat on Bataan was hastened by malaria-spreading done by the Japanese.

2. Virus war—particularly the disease lymphogranuloma venereum, a virus venereal disease which is quite widespread although the public seldom has heard of it.

3. Spirochete warfare—Newman says the Japanese have learned how to multiply the virulence of the entire spirochete class of germs, and thus are in potential position to spread syphilis, slime fever or infective jaundice, yaws which is a syphilis-like tropical disease, and relapsing fever. The spread is to be achieved by spraying droplets of infected material.

4. Kala-azar, or black fever.

5. Japanese river fever, or tsutsugamushi fever.

6. Black death, and O'Hara's disease, known medically as Tularemia. Newman claims there was a mysterious sudden rise in casualties from this disease just before the war.

7. Leprosy—A year before Pearl Harbor, Newman says, mass production of leprosy germs in barnyard hens was announced as an achievement of Dr. Miyagawa's institute.

8. Fungus disease, of which athlete's foot is an example of a mild type.

9. Japanese encephalitis, another virus disease.

10. Cancer—Newman says cancer would be spread by using the cancer-causing chemicals, which are hydrocarbons, a score or more in number, a few very virulent. Newman says such chemicals can pass unnoticed in food, drink, water and super-booby traps. He says the Japanese have cancer-causing chemicals which can be mixed with war gases, although he offers no proof for this assertion.

In the present state of scientific knowledge, the cancer-causing chemicals are not as fearsome as they sound. They have to be injected, or repeatedly rubbed or placed on the same spot on an animal's body.

Five Canadians Get 45 Prisoners

WITH THE CANADIANS IN FRANCE, July 3.—(CP)—Five members of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps bivouaced in a field one night little knowing that a few hundred yards away were 45 armed Germans in all trenches. But in the morning the whole group of Germans gave themselves up to the surprised Canadians.

It happened on the Canadians' second day in France. A colonel from Halifax, who later was killed when hit by a shell in his headquarters, Capt. Dave Ledingham of Galt, Ont., Sgt. Walter Morgan and Pte. Webb, both of Vancouver, and Pte. J. J. Cathcart, Banff, Alta., camped in a field behind the front line.

In the morning Cathcart, a cowboy guide and crack shot who enlisted in Vancouver wearing a 10-gallon hat and spurs, walked along the road near the bivouac and met two German officers waving white flags. He shouted to the other Canadians and after a parley with German officers, who said they knew they were cut off and wanted to surrender, 45 other Germans came out of their trenches. It was the biggest prisoner haul made by the R.C.A.S.C.

Members of Sect Ordered Released By High Court

VANCOUVER, July 3.—(CP)—Release of 12 Sons of Freedom Doukhobors sentenced to three-year prison terms on nudity charges was ordered by Mr. Justice J. M. Coady in British Columbia supreme court here Friday.

Mr. Justice Coady found that the magistrate had no authority to commit the Doukhobors, charged in connection with a disturbing demonstration in Stanley Park at Vancouver, to penitentiary. The magistrate's only jurisdiction was to sentence them to jail, Mr. Justice Coady said.

The habeas corpus hearing was confined to the case of Fred Storgoff but the judgment was accepted as applicable to the 11 others sentenced with him.

At Victoria the provincial attorney-general's department announced an appeal will be launched against the decision releasing the Doukhobors.

"Two degrees to the left and I'm a purple heart!"

Abundant Supply Of Wheat Is Seen

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—The Dominion bureau of statistics said Friday that with a bumper wheat crop in sight in the United States and a promising outlook for the wheat harvest in Canada apprehension regarding wheat supplies for the crop year 1944-45 has been largely dispelled.

Based on June 1 conditions the United States winter wheat crop was estimated at 714,000,000 bushels compared with 630,000,000 bushels harvested in 1943. Spring wheat production was placed at 320,000,000 bushels, some 13,000,000 bushels greater than last year's harvest. This makes a total crop of 1,034,000,000 bushels which, if secured, will surpass the record crop of 1,008,000,000 bushels harvested in 1915.

"It is much too soon to interpret Canadian conditions in terms of bushels but with a substantial increase in wheat acreage this year, maintenance of present crop prospects could only mean better-than-average production in the prairie provinces," said the bureau. "Canadian farmers expressed their intention to increase wheat acreage by nearly 4,000,000 acres over the 1943 seeded area, but actual acreage needed will not be known until figures for release in an official report on July 21."

Premier Fraser Stops at Toronto

TORONTO, July 3.—(CP)—Prime Minister Fraser of New Zealand, en route home from the Empire conference at London, paused here yesterday for a one-day rest before continuing to Washington.

In an interview, he said he would like to thank "all the people of Canada for their great and unalloyed kindness to our boys when they were so far from home."

"They came here to train under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. You opened your hearts and homes to them. ... It has meant much to us."

He said he preferred not to make any further statements regarding his country. "I'm afraid I said everything I can say at Ottawa."

The premier did, however, say New Zealand had "thought out" a program of progress which provided such things as free hospitalization and health services, greater educational opportunities and methods, control of national credit, but "it has never advocated their adoption beyond our own shores."

Gets New Post

TORONTO, July 3.—(CP)—Group Capt. P. R. Hampton, commanding officer at No. 7 Service Flying Training School, R.C.A.F., at Macleod, Alta., has been appointed senior administrative officer at No. 1 Training Command headquarters here. It was announced Friday night.

Recover Body

CALGARY, July 3.—(CP)—After a four-hour search with grappling hooks in the Elbow river, firemen early Sunday recovered the body of 16-year-old Roderick Arthur O'Connor of Calgary, drowned while swimming alone the previous evening.

Prepare Bill

OTTAWA, July 3.—(CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said Friday in the Commons that a bill setting a floor under farm produce prices now was being prepared and would be brought into the house.

77,000 Sorties Flown in June

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 3.—(AP)—RAF planes flew more than 77,000 sorties and dropped nearly 64,000 tons of bombs in Europe during June, a record month in which RAF heavies returned to daylight operations and participated for the first time in tactical attacks.

Noting in this monthly review that June saw an important change in the use of air power, the air ministry said "separate air forces, without losing any of their individuality or their capacity for their own particular tasks, have at times been welded into one gigantic air arm, striking powerful blows to aid armies on the western front."

"The most remarkable instance of this," said the ministry, "is that R.A.F. heavy bombers, especially built for strategic bombing, have been freely and successfully used against tactical targets."

In surpassing the previous monthly high of 41,000 tons of bombs dropped during May, the R.A.F. bombers operated every day in June except one.

Passes at 78

WINNIPEG, July 3.—(CP)—Henry A. Lovett, K.C., 78, of Montreal, prominent in the early development of coal mining in Western Canada, died here en route to Calgary. Born in Brooklyn, N.S., he was a graduate of Dalhousie University, where for some time he lectured at the law school, later taking up practice in Halifax and Montreal. He retired in 1932.

Men Want Action Plans for Rehabilitation First Interest of Troops

TORONTO, July 3.—(CP)—Chief topic of discussion among Canadian troops in Italy is post-war rehabilitation. Wallace Reyburn, war correspondent for the Montreal Standard, said here.

Reyburn, who returned to Canada recently, said in an interview that the troops want to know what rehabilitation legislation has been passed. "They want to know what's down in black and white; they aren't interested in promises."

When he left Italy June 22, most Canadian troops were enjoying "their first real rest." They had been in the line as long, if not longer than any other troops and while they had rest periods before these always came when they were holding part of the line.

CRACK TROOPS

"The Canadians are regarded as crack troops in Italy and that goes for both divisions and the armored brigade as well," said Reyburn. "The armored brigade worked with just about everybody and helped Indian troops crack German defence lines in the Liri valley."

Their fighting qualities are helping Canadians to do a "good job on international relations" and they are highly regarded.

They help, too, to interpret the British and the Americans to each other.

Spirits of the men are high and this is helped by faster mail service than last year. Letters arrive from home in five days. One soldier wrote home for a watch and had it back in 10 days. Their biggest immediate grievance is lack of reading matter.

MOSTLY "BOREDOM"

Reyburn, who was at Dieppe and has been with the Canadians in Sicily and Italy since last year, described war as "90 per cent boredom" and said the men need reading material to help pass the time. He suggested relatives at home leave clothing, fruit and canned beef which the men don't want out of their parcels and to use up the space with hometown news papers, magazines and other reading material.

He spoke highly of the work of the nursing sisters in Italy. They have been serving in advanced dressing stations and their presence close to the battle-front has helped to bolster the morale of wounded men.

The fighting men don't share the views of some Canadians at home that the war may come to a swift and easy end.

SEE HARD FIGHTING

"The troops feel there is much hard fighting ahead before the German armies are destroyed and victory is won. They understand the necessity of making every effort to bring about victory this year so they won't be bogged down in another winter of inaction."

Discussing the Italian campaign, Reyburn said that the terrain—a Italy provided perfect defensive positions for the Germans and it took hard fighting to dislodge them from the Gustav and Hitler lines in the Liri valley. However, once the lines were broken the Allied air superiority and vastly superior armored strength paved the way for rapid advances.

Reyburn is no one who expects nothing for he shall never be disappointed.

Fusilier Frank Jefferson, 22-year-old British soldier from Lancashire, is shown with a Piat anti-tank weapon with which he saved his company in Italy recently. Under heavy mortar fire and from an exposed position, Jefferson faced an attack by Nazi tanks and when the lead tank was only 30 yards away, blew it up with a shot from a Piat, the first time he ever had fired one. The remaining tanks turned and fled.

Canadian Binoculars Please Monty

Recipient of one of the 40,000 pairs of military binoculars already produced by the Crown-owned and operated Research Enterprises Ltd., at Leaside, Ont., Gen. Montgomery in the above letter to Munitions Minister C. D. Howe pays tribute to fine workmanship. Pioneering in a completely new Canadian industry, Research Enterprises has achieved an enviable record in the production of precision instruments for optical and fire control work. The plant employs 7,900, of whom 40 per cent. are girls.

Ground Crews Fly to France

Servicing ground personnel for the first Canadian Fighting Unit to move into an airstrip in France were flown in by Dakota aircraft of the Transport Command, manned by mixed Royal Canadian Air Force and the R.A.F. crews. Spitfires escorted the flight from England across the channel to an airstrip in Normandy from which R.C.A.F. fighter squadrons have been operating since June 10. This fully operational unit is under the command of Wing Commander M. Brown of Winnipeg, Manitoba. The fighter squadrons are the Wolf Squadron, the City of Oshawa Squadron and the Red Indian Squadron. It's a bit squeezey in half a doorway, but this bunch all happened to be from Ontario. Six of the seven are: Cpl. D. Johnson, of Toronto; LAC. J. Menard, Blind River; Cpl. S. Calvert, Timmins; Cpl. D. R. Adams, Barrie; LAC. M. Murphy, Windsor, and Cpl. W. Bell of Stirling and Vancouver.

Close Call in Normandy

Sgt. R. A. Garbutt, of Toronto, pointing to shrapnel holes in the radiator of his vehicle, made by a German 88mm. gun.

R.C.A.F. Sets Up Hospital in France

Two nursing sisters of the Royal Canadian Air Force, Winnifred Pitkethly of Ottawa and Molly Mulholland of Georgetown, Ontario, were the first Canadian women to arrive in France after D-Day. They serve with an R.C.A.F. mobile field hospital unit under the command of Wing Commander J. M. Growse of London, Ontario, who has been in France since D-Day plus one, preparing the way. His hospital, the only

R.C.A.F. unit of its kind on the invasion front, is set up in tents. In the above picture, taken before the unit left England, the medical officer is administering blood plasma to a patient while the nurse tests blood pressure. Left to right, Cpl. Donald Bunce of Brockville, Medical Officer S-L. G. R. Hall of Toronto and nursing sister Winnifred Pitkethly. In the background is X-ray Sgt. Mell Hughes of Victoria, B.C.

When the Nazi Forces Left

Mme. Marie Lesage of a tiny French village shows Sgt. L. Desrosiers of Quebec City the wreck that the Nazi troops made of her home before they were pushed out by Canadian troops. Heart-pangs at the damage to her home are lightened by knowledge that the Germans are gone.

"Keep Away or Else," She Tells Him

Only bearded worker in the aircraft industry, is what they call Stanislaus Bielecki, of Canadian Vickers Aircraft Division, Montreal, who has just found himself threatened with a hairnet. When Bielecki escaped to Canada from Poland in June, 1942, over a route which covered half the world, he grew whiskers he resolved to keep till the war was won. He didn't foresee any entertainments. But here Ethel Reynolds demonstrates that after the ten-minute rest period he will have to take his beard away from her machine or wear a hairnet, as she does. Both workers have a real interest in victory. Mrs. Reynolds' husband, Petty Officer Henry Reynolds, has been in the Royal Navy for 19 years. She machines parts for the giant Canco, the two-motored patrol bomber which is one of the four major combat types produced in Canada.
